I CAN and I WILL FIGHT CANCER!

By Nichole Wouters

When being diagnosed with lung cancer at 27, I discovered that many parts of my life would have to change. Change, whether for positive or negative reasons, is never easy in life. To be faced with making sudden changes to my life has been…challenging. Not all of these changes have been bad or scary! For example, I had to learn what it was like to be a recipient of such generosity from an amazing community. Being a person that gives so much of what they have for others, it was a hard adjustment.

I have felt support and love from my family, friends, coworkers, students, athletes, medical team, and even individuals whom I have never met before. The last two months have been full of thoughtful cards, hugs, emails, phone calls, text messages, prayers, and fundraisers because of these amazing people. This group of people, my Wouters' Warriors, have made my dark days brighter and have brought a continuous smile to my face.

I wish I could say that every day has been amazing and wonderful. I've had my tears. I've had my worries. I've had to face many fears. However, I can say that I am lucky to have this support to push back the darkness of this terrible disease. My life since January has been something I never thought I would have to experience, but I am very thankful to have my WARRIORS by my side. It makes every day I fight worth having, so I can return to my home as a math teacher and Varsity Volleyball Coach at Chippewa Valley.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT AND CLASS ELECTIONS

Election of officers for the 2017-18 Student Government and Class Councils will take place on Wednesday, April 19th, during all lunches in the cafeteria. Students currently in 10th and 11th grades will be able to cast their ballots for Student Government and their respective class officer candidates. Current 9th Graders also will be able to cast their ballots for class officer candidates.

Please encourage your children to take an active part in school by voting on this day. A student needs some form of identification to show the election workers (just like the real world) in order to receive a ballot and vote.

The results of the election will give us our Student Government leadership for next year and officers for the new Senior, Junior and Sophomore Class Councils. Next year's Freshmen Class Representatives will be selected through an application process that begins at the Big Red Check-In at the Ninth Grade Center.

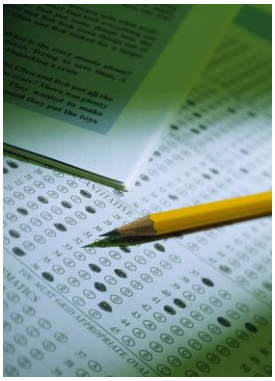
TESTING OUT

By Tony Fiorvento



As we begin scheduling preparations for the 2017-18 school year, we want to share information on the following opportunity that is available to all students. According to the guidelines of Public Act 335, Section 1279B, of the State Code, high school students have the opportunity to "test out" of courses.

The purpose of testing out is to allow students to be placed in higher-level courses in the subject area in which they test out.

To successfully test out of a course and receive credit, students must exhibit mastery of the course content by attaining a grade of 75% or better on a comprehensive final examination. Students may also be required to demonstrate mastery through basic assessments used in the class, which may include, but are not limited to portfolios, performances, papers, projects and/or presentations. Testing out examinations will be administered for both semesters of the 2017-18 school year in June. The testing out registration form is now available in the Main Office or on our website under course scheduling. Registration deadline for current 9th – 11th grade students is Thursday, April 13, 2017. Exams will be administered on June 22nd & 23rd. Dates and times of specific examinations will be confirmed by the end of April at which time study materials will be made available (Main Office for 10th – 11th grade students and 9th Grade Center for freshmen.) If you have further questions regarding testing out, please contact your child's guidance counselor.

TRANSCRIPT REQUESTS

Parchment.com is now mobile friendly!! Students can register, order, and track on their smartphones and iPads. Those interested can go to Parchment.com for directions and more information! Students can also go to the CVHS website under the Guidance Tab for instructions and links.

FOOD SERVICE DEBIT PROGRAM

Food Service would like to say thank you to all those who participated in our debit program this school year. We hope you found it an easier and quicker way for your students to purchase food.

It is our policy to 'roll' all ending balances over for the next school year. However, if your student is leaving the district you will need to request a refund. This would particularly pertain to 12th graders who will be leaving the district upon graduation.

Food Service will provide green "ATTENTION DEBIT USERS" forms to each school office and kitchen. These forms give specific instructions on our refund procedures. They will be available for pickup by May 1, 2017. It is your responsibility to submit this form to the Food Service Dept. before refunds are issued.

May 5, 2017 will be the LAST day Food Service will accept checks to be deposited in debit accounts for all students. There will be NO EXCEPTIONS!!! We will, however, continue to accept cash deposits until the end of the school year.*

Again, thank you for your patronage and we look forward to serving you in 2017-2018.

Congratulations to all of our performers!

March was another very busy month for the Chippewa Valley High School Band Programs

On Saturday, March 11th, The Chippewa Valley High School Bands performed at MSBOA District XVI Band Festival held at Chippewa Valley High School. Three adjudicators evaluated the bands performance on stage, and a fourth judge rated the band's sight reading capabilities. Each adjudicators final rating would be either a 1st Division (Superior) Rating, a 2nd Division (Excellent), 3rd Division (Good), 4th Division (Fair) or 5th Division (Poor).

The CVHS Wind Ensemble received all three 1st Division Ratings on stage and a 1st in Sight Reading for a 1st Division rating overall.
The CVHS Symphonic Band received two 1st Division ratings and one 2nd Division ratings on stage and a 1st Division Rating in Sight Reading for a 1st Division rating overall.
The CVHS Concert Band received three 2nd Division ratings on stage and a 1st Division rating in sight Reading for a 2nd Division rating overall.

CVHS 9th Grade Center Guidance News

PSAT Testing On Tuesday, April 11th, all 9th grade students will be completing the PSAT test. The PSAT is a comprehensive guidance resource used to help prepare students for the SAT, a college entrance exam taken junior year. Encourage your son or daughter to do their best! When results are received, students are encouraged to use them to understand and improve weaker areas as well as to help make plans for the remaining years of high school and beyond! Additional information can be found at https://sat.collegeboard.org and our Guidance Website at http://cvhsguidance.weebly.com/sat.html.

Answering a common question, "Why Go to College?" Whether you are uncertain about going to college or just need some reassurance you're on the right track, here are a few reasons to continue your education after 12th gr:

Every bit of education you get after high school increases the chances you'll earn good pay. Most college graduates earn more money during their working years than people who stop their education at high school earn.

The more education you get the more likely it is you will always have a job. According to one estimate, by the year 2028 there will be 19 million more jobs for educated workers than there are qualified people to fill them.

Continuing education after high school is much more important for your generation than it was for your parents' generation. Today most good jobs require more than a high school diploma. Businesses want to hire people who know how to think and solve problems. Whether it's college or advanced skill-trades training – continued education is a must!

Education beyond high school gives you a lot of other benefits, including meeting new people, taking part in new opportunities to explore your interests, and experiencing success.

Use Big Future's online College Search to find information about colleges at https://bigfuture.collegeboard.org.

What can I do my Freshman Year to start planning for College?

- Find out how to make the most of high school
- Plan challenging high school courses
- Become familiar with college entrance requirements
- Review NWEA and PSAT results with your parents and school counselor once received
- Join/continue extracurricular activities
- Attend summer camp at a college to experience a college-like atmosphere
- Research college costs and continue/start saving for college/post-high school training
- Meet with your counselor at least once a year
- Explore careers on the Internet by visiting a free interactive World-of-Work Map

NEW!!* Check out the College-Career Corner in the Counseling Office! Resources are available to help you start planning for your future. Check it out before or after school, during lunch or if you have time after a class wraps up. Take time exploring careers of interests and how you can get you there. See your counselor for more details!

The weather is warming up… but no time to slack off! With improved weather, the temptation is for students to slack off. Help them stay focused by setting time every day for studying. If they need some fresh air (and don't we all!) plan a set time. FRESHMEN GRADES COUNT! Remind them how they do now impacts their overall GPA all four years – the higher the GPA, the higher their chances are of getting into the college of their choice. Encourage Homework Club after school Wednesdays 2:20 – 3:30 in the CV9 Media Center.

BREAKFAST NOW AVAILABLE IN THE 9TH GRADE CAFETERIA 6:30-7:10 for ALL students…if you receive Free or Reduced Lunch you would receive Free or Reduced Breakfast! Everyone should start their day with proper nutrition!

SENIOR BEHAVIOR and ATTENDANCE: It is expected that seniors will continue to be a positive influence for the remainder of the school year. Senior conduct in school, at extracurricular activities, at Prom, at the All-Night Party, and at graduation ceremonies should leave us with a proud memory of the Class of 2017. We request the support of students, parents, and staff to help us attain this goal. Students are allowed 10 absences for a semester before losing their eligibility for credit. 6 Good Reasons Why Teens and Alcohol Are a BAD Combination

1. A teen's brain is still developing.
   The teen brain is a "work in progress". Research by the NIDA (the National Institute of Drug Abuse) found that the brain's frontal lobes, a critical area for the development of judgment and acquiring information, is not fully developed until someone is in his/her 20's. Considerable research tells us that regular use of alcohol or other drugs by adolescents can have life-long negative effects on their brain chemistry and the structural organization of the brain.

2. Teens do not always make good decisions.
   Alcohol use decreases impulse control and increases risky decisions that can lead to injury, dangerous sexual behavior, sexual assault or other kinds of violence, alcohol poisoning, and even death.

3. Teen use of alcohol is illegal.
   Teens that drink are breaking the law. It is illegal for adults, even the own teen's parent, to allow a teen to drink. It is important that all adults send a CLEAR message to teens that underage drinking is illegal and unacceptable.

4. Research tells us that postponing alcohol use beyond the teen years SIGNIFICANTLY decreases a teen's likelihood of addiction as an adult.
   In a recent study, drinking to get drunk was the main reason for drinking cited by nearly half the youth. Another survey found that most teen drinkers binge.

5. Teen use of alcohol and other drugs, like marijuana, is a primary issue in youth traffic accidents and fatalities.
   Did you know that car crashes are the leading cause of death for youth, ages 15 to 20, and that alcohol is a factor in 1/3 of the crashes involving teens.

6. If a teen drinks alcohol, s/he can face SERIOUS legal and other consequences.
   These consequences can include driver's license suspension or restriction, substance abuse screening and treatment at the parents' expense, fines up to $500, court costs, and community service. In addition, insurance coverage rises significantly or can be cancelled for conviction of alcohol-related offences. Teens found guilty of an alcohol offence may not be admitted to the college of their choice and can be ineligible for college scholarships.

THERE ARE MANY GOOD REASONS THAT THE LEGAL DRINKING AGE IS 21 YEARS.

Share this information with your teen today!

Dangers of E-Cigarettes and Other Vape Products

What are they?

Electronic cigarettes (also called e-cigarettes or electronic nicotine delivery systems) are battery-operated devices designed to deliver nicotine with flavorings or other flavored substances to users in a vapor instead of smoke. They can be manufactured to resemble tobacco cigarettes, cigars or pipes, or even pens or USB memory sticks. Newer devices, such as those with refillable tanks, may look different. More than 250 varieties of e-cigarette brands are currently on the market.

What You Should Know!

- The health risk of these products are currently unknown
- They are NOT regulated by the Food and Drug Administration
- Companies make a wide range of flavors (mint, candies and fruit), to target sales to teens
- Many that claim to be "nicotine free" contain nicotine
- Some flavorings have been identified as lung irritants
- Chemicals found in the smoke of these products, include formaldehyde, acetaldahyde, and acrolein
- E-cigarettes have NOT been proven effective as smoking-cessation aids

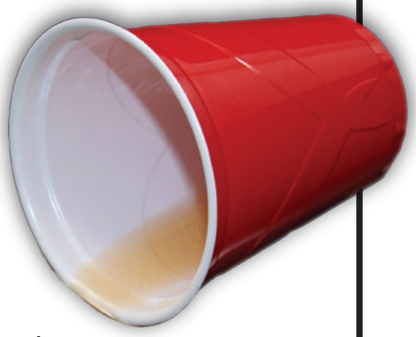
Tips for Parents: Have a Safe and Legal Party

Parents can have the best intentions when they allow their teen to have a party in their home, but permitting underage drinking is a BIG mistake. Teen drinking is illegal and unsafe. Allowing teens to drink in your home can result in stiff penalties, including up to 30 days in jail and/or a $1000 fine. In addition, parents can be sued if they allow drinking and a teen is injured in any way (www.socialhostlaw.wordpress.com).

Establish firm rules that alcohol, marijuana, and other drugs are not allowed!

Planning the Party

- Ask your teen who is attending the party.
- Limit the number of attendees by making the event invitation-only. When using social networking sites, e.g. Facebook, to create invitations, be sure to make the party "private" so only invitees can see the details of the party.
- Put your phone number on the invitation and welcome calls from parents.
- Provide plenty of snacks and non-alcoholic beverages, as well as activities, such as dancing and games, to keep teens busy.



At the Party

- Define a set area for the party, have enough chaperones to provide supervision, and monitor the party frequently.
- Lock up alcohol and medications to avoid access.
- Restrict entry to the party. Have those attending enter through one door.
- Let attendees know that if they leave the party, they can't come back.
- Don't allow water bottles or other outside beverages so that alcohol can't be brought into the party.
- Keep backpacks and coats in a separate area to prevent teens from bringing in alcohol or other drugs.
- Be prepared to contact parents if an attendee appears to be under the influence or brings alcohol or other drugs to the party.

Making it real for health care students

Macomb is taking a unique approach in preparing its health care students (maybe you?) for careers where teamwork is as important as personal best.

In health care, occupational therapy, physical therapy, respiratory therapy and nursing, staff work together to ensure a patient's diverse needs are met. In college, however, students majoring in these areas rarely see each other outside the cafeteria. That's changing at Macomb.

In Macomb's Human Patient Simulation lab this winter semester, students and faculty from all four academic areas joined together in a learning exercise designed to fine tune their teamwork skills. Students were briefed on their "patient's" medical history, as well as the role each of them, based on their major, played in her treatment and recovery.

"We had faculty from each discipline help to create a patient with many problems for the students to deal with," explained Stephanie Marcincavage, Human Patient Simulation lab coordinator. "We wanted to give the students the opportunity to interact like they will once they graduate."

Macomb occupational therapy, physical therapy, respiratory therapy and nursing students learn how to work together in the College's Human Patient Simulation lab.

Macomb's social media: much to like

You don't have to be a student at Macomb Community College to keep up with what's going on. Sign into social media and get an insider's view around the College's campuses.

Macomb can be found on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Snapchat YouTube and LinkedIn. There is also a blog, Mbytes, which provides an ongoing commentary about what's up on campus. Links to all of the College's social media sites can be found at www.macomb.edu.

Her (global) strategy for college success

Emily Oehmke graduated from L'Anse Creuse North High School just last May, but already has nearly two years of college completed and is ready to transfer to Michigan State University in the fall to pursue a bachelor's degree.

"It was the best decision I have ever made," says Oehmke, of the Early College of Macomb program. "Since I started taking classes here at such a young age (15), I didn't know what I wanted to go into. I took many entry level business classes and that helped me decide that business was right for me."

Macomb also helped Oehmke refine her choice to fit the demands of today's business world, narrowing her focus to global supply chain management.

"It's a highly sought-after degree that Macomb now offers," says Oehmke, a member of Macomb's new Supply Chain Management Club. "Instead of spending more time at my high school and taking non-core classes, I was here starting to learn the basics of business. That alone got me so motivated and excited for my future."

But that's not to say that Oehmke wasn't active with her high school. She served on student council all four years and was student council and class president her senior year. She was also a member of its student advisory committee and track and cross country team. And, despite her own achievements, she has been impressed by the caliber of her fellow classmates at Macomb.

"Some of the smartest, most successful individuals attend Macomb. These students work full time and take classes at the same time. They are way more prepared for whatever their future may bring because of that," says Oehmke. "They are also smart because of all the money they are saving!"

Emily Oehmke took advantage of Early College at Macomb and calls it "The best decision I have ever made." She graduates in May, less than a year after graduating from high school, and will transfer to Michigan State University to pursue a degree in supply chain management.

How to make yourself proud

Regardless of where you choose to go to college, don't think for a second that applying for a scholarship is a waste of time. Mallory Burr did, once, but not anymore.

"I'm so proud of myself," says Burr, a computer science major at Macomb, who recently scored two scholarships and a competitive internship with Quicken Loans. "I'm progressing on my future and so excited to continue my education at Wayne State."

Life has improved dramatically over the last year for Burr, who lost her mother to respiratory disease in March 2016 and thought about dropping out of college because of family finances. Then she decided to apply for a scholarship at Macomb.

"OASIS (Macomb's Online Automated Scholarship Information System) is right there on the website and it was really easy to work with," says Burr, recipient of a $1,500 Italian American Delegate Scholarship from Macomb and a transfer scholarship from Wayne State University. "There are much worse ways to spend two hours of your time than filling out a scholarship application."

And the same goes for the Calculus 1 class she took with Professor Zakaria Musallam.

"He made me work at it until I got it. I'm still not a fan of math, but I appreciate it much more because of him, and have moved on to Calculus 2," says Burr. "That's what I really like about Macomb - the small class sizes and that the professors actually get to know you."

"It's better to try and fail then never to try at all," says Burr. "I am so thankful that I did."
