

Crazy Crayons®

Today we introduced the children to a national crayon-recycling program. Our love affair with beautiful colorful crayons has been going on for years – over 12 million crayons are produced in the United States everyday – it's our old broken thrown away crayons that are causing the problem. Crayons are petroleum-based products that take years and years to biodegrade. Just imagine how many crayons are in landfills across the country. Remember...12,000,000 new crayons are made a day, the old ones have to go somewhere.

We are hoping that you will be inspired to support us and join the nationwide crayon-recycling project. Old crayons can be collected and recycled into fresh new ones.

We hope that this will be a positive experience that will inspire children to make larger strides toward a "greener earth."

Please support our efforts by collecting old crayons and bringing them to school. All you have to do is drop them in a special bin that is kept in your classroom! After the old crayons are collected, we will ship them to Crazy Crayon Headquarters where they will be recycled and made into new crayons.

If you would like to learn more about Crazy Crayons or place an order, check out their website at: <http://www.crazycrayons.com/index.html>.

